

A New Style of Fried Chicken is Coming to Crocker Park

WHAT: Columbus born fried chicken concept, Hot Chicken Takeover, is coming to Crocker Park's Phase 3, to be located next to H&M and across from 3 Palms Pizzeria on Main Street.

To celebrate their foray into the Cleveland market, Hot Chicken Takeover will be hosting a pop-up in front of their future store front this Thursday, February 28, and handing out their famous banana pudding desserts from 11am-1pm. All are invited to come and experience the dessert Food & Wine Magazine rated "one of the best banana puddings" and learn more about the exciting addition to Crocker Park.

Hot Chicken Takeover specializes in serving Nashville style hot chicken with a selection of "grandma-approved" side dishes, iced tea and their famous "Miss B's banana pudding". Owner Joe DeLoss began the business back in 2014 with the same mission that remains today, to be a community focused restaurant serving delicious, fried chicken.
